

CLAIMS

- I. A hand massaging device with variable pressure comprising:
- (a) A hand held object;
 - (b) An inflatable device that is able to vary the degree of pressure in said object.
- II. The massaging device described in Claim I wherein the object is a sphere.
- III. The massaging device described in Claim I wherein the object is a ball.
- IV. The massaging device described in Claim I wherein the inflatable device is a bladder like structure.
- V. The massaging device described in Claim I wherein the inflatable device is a valve.
- VI. The massaging device described in Claim I wherein the shape of the object is gently manipulated in the hand as a way of giving a therapeutic massage to the hand.
- VII. The massaging device described in Claim I wherein the shape of the object is gently manipulated in the hand as a way of giving a therapeutic massage to the wrist.
- VIII. The massaging device described in Claim I wherein it is used for advertisement.
- IX. The massaging device described in Claim I wherein it has text printed on its surface.
- X. The massaging device described in Claim I wherein it has an image printed on its surface.

cm
A3

XI. The ~~massaging~~ device described in Claim I wherein the surface is pleasant to the touch.

20220207 09:47:00